Share, inspire and connect with European cancer nurses

What better setting than Geneva, which plays host to hundreds of humanitarian and scientific agencies, including the United Nations, the International Red Cross and the World Health Organisation, for cancer nurses from many fields of expertise to "Share, Inspire and Connect". The symbol of the city, the Jet d'Eau, signals the coming of spring each year, and in 2012, it will also mark the EONS-8 biennial Spring Convention.

Apart from Alpine lakes, snow-capped mountains, and lush forests, this beautiful city, sitting on the banks of the tranquil Lake Geneva, is the place to be with its trendy hotels, countless chic restaurants and upmarket shops. There are over 30 museums, a thriving arts scene and an opera house boasting the performances of a number of famous artists.

So for exciting scientific news, a comprehensive educational programme and interactions with key experts, join us at the EONS-8 Spring Convention, 26-27 April 2012 and experience all that Geneva has to offer.
