
Rosario Caruso, Head of Health Professions Research and Development Unit, IRCCS Policlinico San Donato, Milan 20097, Italy

References:

Putting e-health information at the heart of oncology nursing, pp. 19-20

Irma Verdonck-de Leeuw

VUmc University Medical Center, Dept of Otolaryngology/Head & Neck Surgery, De Boelelaan 117, room nr PK2 Z 118, P.O. Box 7057, 1007 MB Amsterdam, The Netherlands

References:

4. Eurostat, 2013 (see also reference in Fig. 1).

Developing and testing supportive care interventions, pp 21-23

Manuela Eicher, Haute Ecole Spécialisée de Suisse occidentale, Route des Cliniques 15, 1700 Fribourg, Switzerland
manuela.eicher@hefr.ch

References:

1. Multinational Association of Supportive Care in Cancer. Definition of Supportive Care, 2015. http://www.mascc.org/about-mascc
8. Eicher, M., Ribi, K., and Betticher, D.C., Testing the feasibility and efficacy of two different intensities of an intervention to enhance RESilience and to reduce Supportive Care Needs in Cancer Patients: A Phase II Trial (RESIL-Trial). 2013.

Nursing care models for older people with cancer in clinical settings, pp. 26-29

Ingállill Rahm Hallberg
References:

Beyond Cancer: The fears of cancer recurrence, p. 31

Gozde Ozakinci
Lecturer in Health Psychology, University of St Andrews, School of Medicine North Haugh, St Andrews, Fife KY16 9TF Scotland, UK
go10@st-andrews.ac.uk

References: